RWC announces winners of annual golf tournament benefiting its Foundation

IRVINGTON, Va. – There were several winners at Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury Foundation’s 33rd Annual Open Golf Tournament benefiting the RWC Fellowship Fund held April 27 at Indian Creek Yacht & Country Club. But the biggest winner was the Fellowship Fund.

Players were divided into three flights. First flight champions were sponsored by Haywood Floor Covering Inc. with a 50. The team from Marsh & McLennan topped the second flight with a 53. Chesapeake Land Works LLC sponsored the third flight with a 50. The winning ladies team was sponsored by Melanie Carter-Maguire with a 58.

“Thirty teams (120 golfers) enjoyed a lovely day at Indian Creek and benefited an important part of our community at the same time,” said Brenda Mayer, Indian Creek head golf professional.

Other winners included Jeff Verlander for the Men’s Closest to the pin (with a hole in one on No. 2!) and Ruth Thomas with the Women’s Closest to the Pin. Men’s longest drive winner was Hooper Loscomb and Ann Stanley had the longest drive for the women.

Adam Duryea and David Nova of Coastal Builders, Inc. were co-chairs of this year’s tournament. RWC President Stuart Bunting expressed his appreciation for the overwhelming community and statewide support from participants, sponsors and prize donors.

“This tournament really goes a long way toward helping us achieve our Foundation’s mission,” Bunting said. “Since 1986, the Fellowship Fund has provided more than $5.5 million in grants to ensure that RWC residents can enjoy a lifestyle of dignity and comfort at RWC’s Total LifeCare Retirement Community. “

When play ended, participants enjoyed a reception and awards ceremony sponsored by Haywood Floor Covering Inc. at Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury.
